

“Tapping into the Power Source”

Acts 2; Acts 4

The earliest Christian believers huddled together in Jerusalem, listened to the apostles, and talked to God in prayer. There were a lot of things missing from that first church. They lacked charters, committees, strategies, and church buildings (things some would consider vital for church health). But one thing they had was power. Why? Because they learned to tap into the source of power through prayer. Let's examine their prayer life generally and then specifically.

I. A Description of Prayer Generally (Acts 2:42)

- A. They Prayed Regularly
- B. They Prayed Customarily
- C. They Prayed Instinctively

II. A Depiction of Prayer Specifically (Acts 4:24-31)

- A. It Was _____
- B. It Had _____
- C. It Was _____
- D. It Was _____
- E. It Had _____
